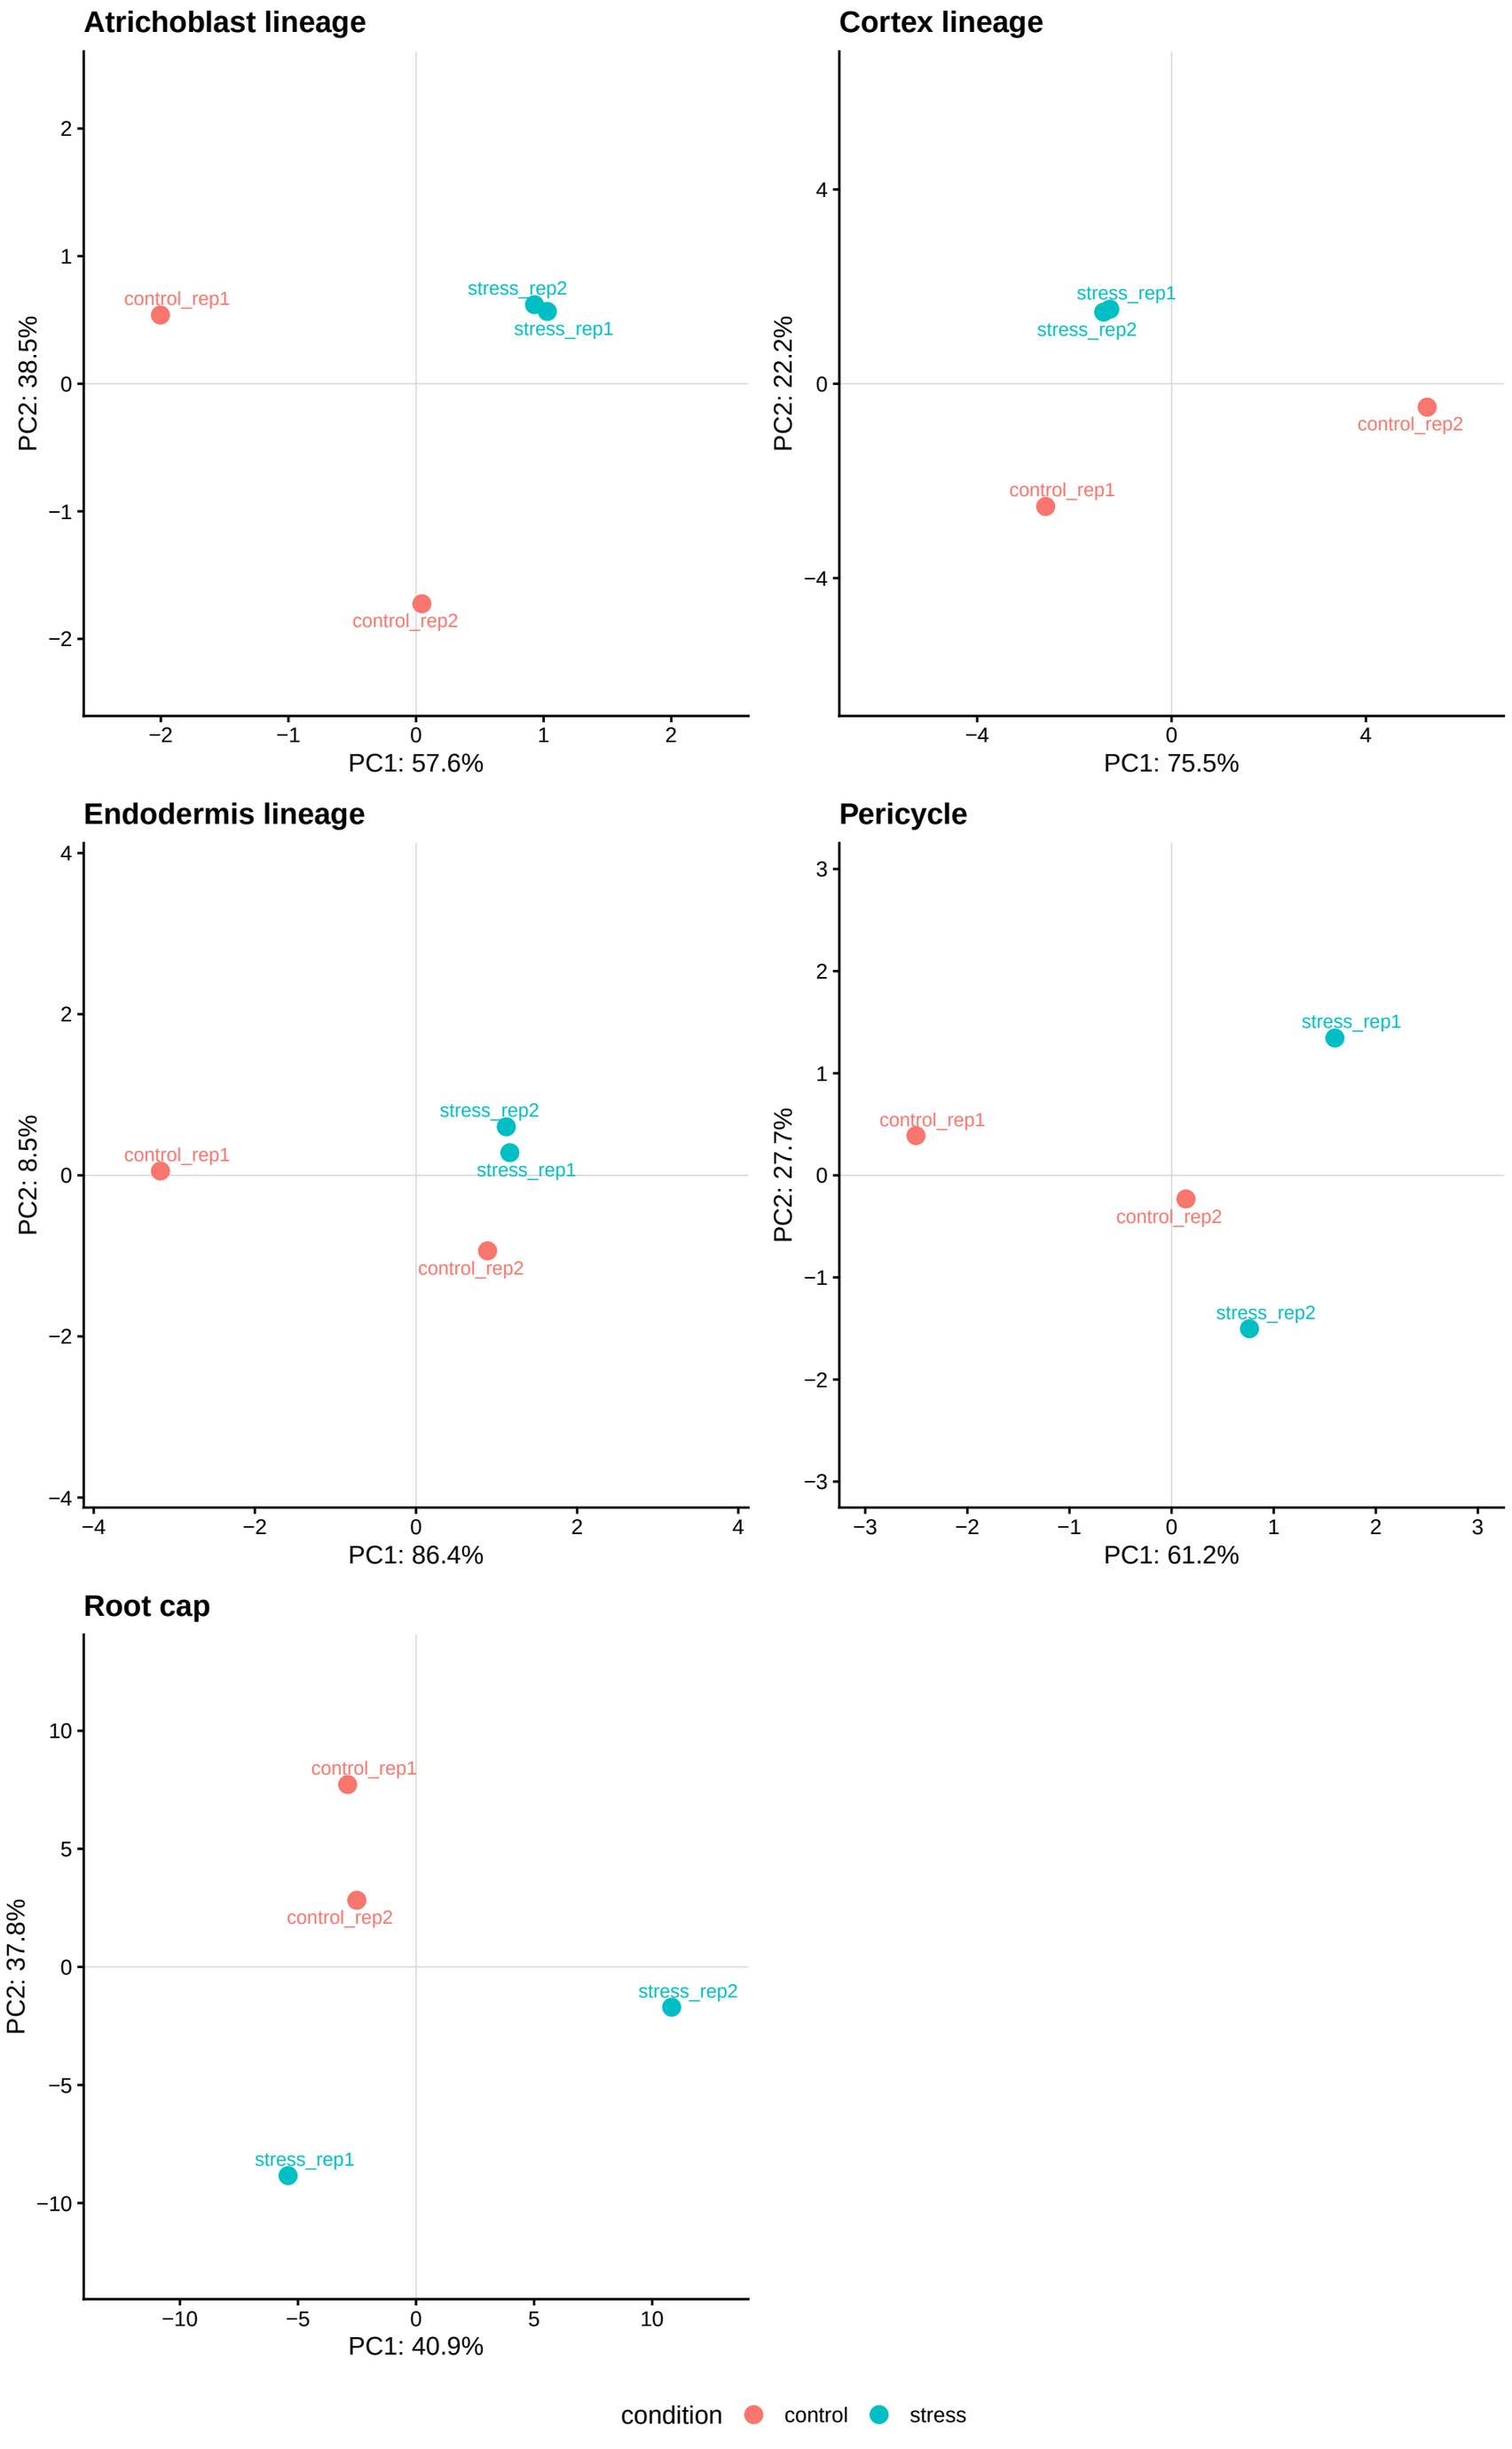
ATAC pseudobulk: sample relationships within RNA populations



Each panel is an independent PCA; coordinates are not a shared space.
Within each panel, x and y use equal unit scales. Axis ranges differ by panel.
Points are biological samples. PCA uses the 500 most variable retained peaks.